My recollection is that the Dewan granted by silence to my proposal for the free distribution of Bilejola for Summer fodder crops. Kindly have this included among the orders.

subject for perusal—

No decision was arrived at the meeting on this point. although the subject was casually mentioned.

Sir Chamanlal explained that the sale of Bills was not for more than a few days. There was no suggestion by the Deputation of the distribution—

D.O. Letter No. Dated 26th Nov: 1923 from the Director of Agriculture to the 1st Member Comm

Some general measures calculated to give some relief may be recommended for adoption at the present time. People should be persuaded to sow Bili Jola which is a quick growing crop producing both grain and fodder under bunds and tanks with a small quantity of water. Cultivation in dry tank beds may be freely permitted but the growing of Bili Jola should I believe be insisted upon. In the event of famine coming on in the near future, Samai Kethapan Jola may be sown on drylands also wherever possible for such quantities of fodder as they may produce. Stored tanks also receive a supply of water, this should be conserved and Bili Jola sown under these in preference to the crops like paddy which require more plentiful irrigation. I may state here that the departmental staff have already received instructions to work on these lines.

A demand has arisen recently for Bili Jola seed in the affected areas and about 30 pallas have already been distributed. But if the measures outlined above become popular, we shall have to be prepared with a large stock of this seed, the price of which has been rapidly rising in the Chitaldrug District from where this is chiefly obtained. During the last fortnight, the price has risen from about Rs. 12 to Rs. 20 per palla and at this rate, it will soon reach a price that the ryot will consider excessive and will not pay, should no more than the transport charges be waived as at present. I trust that the Govt will be willing to accept some further loss in this matter and that they will kindly permit me to sell the Bili Jhal seed at not less than 6 seers per rupee irrespective of the price of purchase. I cannot say immediately what this loss will amount to but I consider that the concession is necessary in view of the present conditions

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR.

Bangalore, December 26, 1923.

Dear Mr.Banerji,

In connection with the present fodder situation, I feel strongly that more use could be made of tank beds for the growing of fodder crops. The tank beds are themselves much too dry for the germination of seed, but temporary wells could be sunk at very little expense and these could be used for Kapile irrigation. I saw this being done recently in one tank bed in Maddagiri Taluk and practically the whole tank bed was under jola. What is being done in that one instance should be done in thousands of tanks in the affected areas.

I have discussed this with the Revenue Commissioner and with the Deputy Commissioner of Tumkur. I have also written to the Deputy Commissioner, Kolar, on the subject. I think some money might be well set apart for this purpose and would suggest that if funds are not otherwise available a couple of thousand rupees should be cut off the proposed allotment for fodder purchase and a thousand be given over to each of the two Deputy Commissioners for the purpose. I am sure in this way much more fodder could be made available to the cattle than we could get from the channel tracts for the same sum.

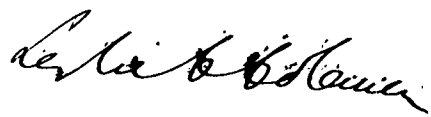
Yours sincerely,



Raja Mantra Dhurina, A.R. Banerji, Esq., M.A., C.S.I., C.I.E.
